TO PSYCHOSIS BREAKTHROUGH

The National Caucus of Labor Committees has announced that through the final de-programming of Christopher White, victim of the most vicious and perverse brainwashing procedures, Lyn Marcus and the Labor Committees have now made a major advance in opening up a whole area of psychology -- the solution to psychosis.

Chris White, by regaining his health, will now be able to play a leading role in making these methods known, and thereby providing an immediate cure for all victims of KGB and CIA brainwashing.

We call upon all psychiatrists, psychologists, and professionals in the field of psychology and psychological warfare to consult with the Labor Committees so that together we can actually develop an immediate program for public consumption of this new major development.

in one incident, a New Solidarity spokesman, distributing our latest release at the Times office, was physically assaulted.

PHILADELPHIA: Even after Inquirer editor Jerry Etter called AP in New York, urging an investigation of the story, AP refused to cover the story. At the Philadelphia Tribune, the story was even sent to the type-setting room, but no article appeared in the paper. And, despite the genuine interest of the night editors of the Bulletin and Daily News, both papers have blacked out the story.

Since the CIA, the NYPD, and the FBI are in a state of insurrection against the United States government and Constitution, and since the major national and metropolitan media have consistently refused to investigate or publish the facts of the case, we are proceeding immediately with an emergency injunction to insure that the NYPD, the FBI, and the CIA not be permitted to arrest or detain any Labor Committee member in order to carry out this vicious operation.

Call the press. Demand that they print this story!

LABOR COMMITTEE EXPOSES PRESS COVER-UP

OF CIA -- POLICE MURDER ATTEMPTS

A clear pattern of press collusion in the scandalous brainwashing of British Labor Committee member Christopher White has now emerged. CIA operative Andrew Kopkind has been authoritatively reported to have issued orders to radio stations in the Boston area to kill all coverage of the sensational events involving White and other Labor Committee members.

Kopkind's accomplice in this cover-up was Dan Schechter, who accidentally let slip the fact that Kopkind wanted the lid kept on the story. Schechter proposed that NCLC spokesmen could appear on a Kopkind monitored weekly program in 2 weeks -- or exactly when White's program indicates the assassination attempts were to be carried out. An article in Kopkind's mouthpiece, The Real Paper, has previously threatened Marcus' life.

In related events in New York City, press blackout of the story has been complete, except for coverage of a CIA-planted story, accusing the NCLC of attempted kidnapping. This story, entirely concocted with the aid of Detective Finnigan's CIA-run Red Squad, was exclusively intended to prepare the way for the "legalized" murder of Chris White, his wife, and Lyn Marcus, national chairman of the National Caucus of Labor Committees.

Outside of this intended cover-up of police plans to seize the principals involved, all other news media have been ordered to keep the lid on. In at least 3 related cases, reporters who previously expressed great interest and excitement in the extraordinary developments of the case have now absolutely refused to follow through on continued coverage.

New York Post, Jay Levitt, at first recommended in-depth follow-up of the story--but then became suddenly unavailable despite the continuing major legal and criminal events involved.

NBC national news assignment editor, Marvin Lorber, specifically requested an exclusive interview, but when called back to specify time and place at his convenience, suddenly announced no crew was available.

New York Daily News reporter Mac Farland first requested immediate access to pertinent information. One-half hour later, he suddenly became too involved in meeting a deadline to review the data rushed to him by courier.

New York Times reporters have been so hysterical that
